PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 7, 2020, 10:04 AM 1 2 -000-3 (Call to order of the Court.) 4 THE CLERK: Court is now in session. The Honorable 5 Dennis Montali presiding, the matter of PG&E Corporation. And 6 I'm bringing in Mr. Karotkin now, and I'll bring in Mr. Slack 7 shortly. 8 MR. KAROTKIN: Good morning, sir. 9 THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Karotkin. We've been 10 missing you out here. MR. KAROTKIN: Yeah, well it's been a long time. 11 12 THE COURT: So come on back, bring some new business 13 back, you know? You don't have to do them all in Delaware, and 14 New York, and Texas. 15 MR. KAROTKIN: I know, well, we're trying, we're 16 trying. 17 THE COURT: All right. Let's get the appearances. 18 Good morning, Mr. Slack, but appearances from both counsel. 19 MR. KAROTKIN: Yes, Stephen Karotkin and Richard 20 Slack, Weil, Gotshal & Manges, for the reorganized debtors. 21 THE COURT: And I don't know if we have an attorney in 22 the participants from Ropes & Gray, so if you are attorney from 23 Ropes & Gray appearing for Elliot today, please raise your hand 24 so we can bring you into the courtroom. 25 THE CLERK: Your Honor, Keith Wofford is joining

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company 1 momentarily. 2 THE COURT: Wofford. Yes, okay. And how about Mr. 3 Goldblatt? 4 THE CLERK: And --5 THE COURT: Mr. Goldblatt, you're in the court, I presume -- would you please raise your hand also? Mr. 6 7 Wofford --8 THE CLERK: And also --9 THE COURT: Yes, go ahead, Ms. Parada. 10 THE CLERK: And Mr. Gregg Galardi is also in 11 attendance. I'll bring him in shortly. 12 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Wofford, good morning. 13 Would you please state your appearance? 14 MR. WOFFORD: Your Honor, good morning, afternoon here 15 on the east coast. 16 For the record, Keith Wofford from Ropes & Gray on 17 behalf of Elliot Investment Management, and my colleague Gregg 18 Galardi is with us, I believe today also, and he'll be speaking 19 momentarily. MR. GALARDI: Yes, Your Honor. I'm having a little --20 21 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Galardi? 22 MR. GALARDI: Your Honor, it's Gregg Galardi on behalf 23 of Ropes & Gray for the Elliot Management. 24 THE COURT: All right. 25 MR. GOLDBLATT: And Your Honor?

- 1 THE COURT: Yes, sir, Mr. Goldblatt?
- 2 MR. GOLDBLATT: So this is Craig Goldblatt. Actually
- 3 my colleague, and partner, Phil Anker is taking the lead in
- 4 today's hearing, so I don't know if Ms. Parada could bring him
- 5 | into the room. That would be very helpful if she could, though
- 6 it is good to see everyone.
- 7 THE COURT: Do you have him on the call, Ms. Parada?
- 8 Yes, all right.
- 9 THE CLERK: Yes, Your Honor. He's joining now.
- 10 THE COURT: Mr. Galardi, you need to unmute yourself.
- 11 Mr. Galardi --
- MR. GALARDI: I did, Your Honor.
- 13 THE COURT: -- you need to unmute your microphone.
- 14 There you go. All right.
- 15 And Mr. Anker?
- MR. ANKER: Good morning. Good afternoon from the
- 17 | east coast, Your Honor. Philip Anker, Wilmer Cutler Pickering
- 18 Hale and Dorr, for funds managed by or accounts managed by
- 19 | Canyon, Citadel, Varde, Davidson Kempner, Sculptor and I may
- 20 have left one out, and if so I apologize to them and to Your
- 21 Honor.
- 22 THE COURT: That's all right. And their name's on the
- papers. Are you going to activate your camera, or do you want
- 24 to stay anonymous?

Case: 19-30088 Doc# 8719

MR. ANKER: No. Well, I've now activated my camera.

Mr. Slack, I wasn't sure that 15 we'd have this hearing. I thought you would take me up on 16 invitation to meet your opponents and work something out, but 17 here we are. So the floor is yours. 18 MR. SLACK: So thank you, Your Honor. Richard Slack, 19 Weil, Gotshal & Manges for the reorganized debtors, and I have 20 good news because we have, in fact, worked just about 21 everything out, and have a proposal for -- an approach, and a 22

23

25

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company believe we have an approach and a schedule for you.

So let me present that, which is we believe that this is a case that can be resolved based on dispositive motions that go to the face of the pleadings, and so what we've proposed was that we would file an objection that went to those, what we'll call, initial or facial defenses, largely legal issues, and we have a schedule for resolving those, and that the parties agreed with respect to that.

I think we've lost the judge, so I'm stopping.

THE CLERK: One moment, counsel. I'll try and check in with Judge Montali.

MR. SLACK: Your Honor, but I'll start -- I think we -- I just go started.

THE COURT: You started, yeah (audio interference).

MR. SLACK: Your Honor, are you there? Did you -- you're frozen on my screen.

17 THE COURT: Yeah.

25

MR. SLACK: Okay.

19 THE COURT: For the record, I (audio interference).

MR. SLACK: All right. So, here, let me -- let me start, Your Honor, by saying that we have consulted with counsel for Elliot and the other noteholders. We didn't get a chance to speak to PIMCO because their joinder just came in, though I understand that they've had some communications and are generally agreeable to the approach and the schedule that PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company we've worked out with the other movants.

And the approach, Your Honor, is that the debtors believe that there are dispositive motions, essentially on the face of the motion itself, dispositive defenses, and we propose raising those in an objection that would get litigated upfront. We have a schedule to do that. The parties have agreed that depending on Your Honor's ruling with respect to those sort of facial or dispositive issues, that then we would have discovery on the merits, and we'd come back to Your Honor with a schedule for resolving those, and the reorganized debtors would obviously reserve their rights to raise other objections based on the merits at that time.

So the schedule we've worked out, Your Honor, is as follows, that PG&E would file an objection on Wednesday, August 26th, that Elliot and the other movants' response to that objection would be Monday, September 14th, that PG&E would get a reply on Friday, September 25th, and then all of the parties agree to ask Your Honor for a hearing as soon as you can give it to us after that date, consistent with Your Honor having the time to review and prepare.

THE COURT: (Audio interference) you hope to do anything for several months, but probably be able to do it in several days. But Mr. Slack, are you (audio interference).

MR. KAROTKIN: Your Honor, you're frozen.

MR. SLACK: Yeah, I'm sorry, Your Honor, you're in and

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company out, and I did not hear what your comment was, what your question was.

THE COURT: Can you hear me?

MR. SLACK: I heard that but I didn't hear whatever came before it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. You know, I had everything working before.

No, I said what if you -- we're into the schedule, which sounds fine to me, but then someone else joins, and does a me too with the -- with Elliot and the others that took the lead.

MR. SLACK: So what we want to ask Your Honor for is an order at least to -- for anybody who is going to join, to do that by August 10th, which is Monday, which would allow the reorganized debtors the opportunity to look at whatever joinder is filed, and make it part of our objection, so that we could deal with this efficiently in one set of papers.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, let's come back to that in a minute because the gentlemen who are on the call have already joined. So shall I assume that all of you -- well, maybe

Mr. -- the newcomers, Mr. Anker -- or Hefter, rather, you I guess were not party to this discussion but do you have any problem with the schedule Mr. Slack outlined?

MR. HEFTER: Your Honor, this is Michael Hefter, for the record.

I did have communications with Mr. Galardi and Mr.

Anker prior to this conference, and we are in general agreement with the approach that's been outlined by Mr. Slack and seemingly agreed to by the others on our side.

THE COURT: Okay. So if I got it right, and again I apologize for the hang-ups here, PG&E will file a motion, or whatever we call it, but I presume it's the equivalent of a summary judgment or a motion to dismiss. I mean, this is an adversary -- I mean, it's a contested matter in an administrative claim, it's -- so we all know what we're talking about, and Elliot, et al., all the other side, will reply on or respond on September 14. PG&E will reply on September 25th, and I'll give you a date here shortly thereafter for oral argument. That's fine with me.

My only -- Mr. Slack, I'm a little hesitant to issue something on the 7th that gives people until Monday to join. I think I'm inclined to add a few more days to that, but that shouldn't make a difference because -- well, I don't -- I mean, I realize that if you get somebody late, you might have to supplement your motion, but I assume your motion, if it's addressed to the three parties that have joined forces here, it's going to apply with equal force to anyone else. So -- MR. KAROTKIN: Your Honor? Your Honor, could I ask you a question and maybe --

THE COURT: Sure.

1 MR. KAROTKIN: -- we can get a little -- and Mr.

2 Galardi, perhaps, can help me because I don't recall off the

3 top of my head, but under the noteholder RSA, I believe to the

4 extent that there is a claim here, there are a limited number of "consenting" noteholders that would even have the right to

6 assert this claim, and I just don't know off the top of my

7 head, and I'm sure Mr. Anker and Mr. Galardi could help,

8 whether taking into account all the joinders in Elliot and

9 PIMCO, that covers the universe of those particular parties.

10 THE COURT: Well, Mr. Galardi, do you know or --

MR. GALARDI: Your Honor, I think it is thirteen or 12 | fourteen. I count two on this call, and Mr. Anker knows his 13 number better than I do, but I think the total universe is 14 thirteen or fourteen.

THE COURT: Oh, okay.

MR. ANKER: Your Honor, this is Mr. Anker. If it's

17 | helpful to the Court, I think Mr. Galardi is right, that there were thirteen, maybe it's fourteen, sets of noteholders under 19 the RSA. We represent six. Mr. Galardi represents one, Mr.

20 Hefter represents one, that gets us to eight. So there are five or six not represented by counsel on this hearing -- at 22 this hearing.

21

THE COURT: But you know who they are, right? I mean,

24 they're --

MR. KAROTKIN: Correct, I --

1 THE COURT: -- we could do this.

MR. GALARDI: Correct, Your Honor. I think the debtor could give notice to them of a deadline that would set something in the early of next week. I do agree that Monday is probably early, but I think they probably know about it. They could probably get notice of a deadline, and make their decision. We have no objection to that.

THE COURT: Yeah, Mr. Karotkin, I realize from your comments that this may not be something you're going to be leading on, but since you raised the question, and I'm glad you did, I didn't know if the universe was fifty or one. I just didn't go back and take the time to count on it.

But it would seem to me that given the statements that these parties are identifiable, I could issue an order today, I guess, that says that if you intend to join the Elliot motion, you need to do it by X date, and I'm thinking about maybe one week out. I don't know what the legal ramifications would be of someone who doesn't do it. I don't know whether under the documents or under applicable law, I could suddenly create some sort of a permanent bar, but I'm willing to -- I mean obviously, there was quite a response from a short and small list of people because you're all here.

Mr. Slack, is that -- does that make sense?

MR. SLACK: It does Your Honor, and I -- look, my expectation is anybody who joins is going to do it in the same

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company fashion that the parties that have joined this one are joined, and if that's the case, we expect that the issues we're going to raise are going to be the exact same with respect to, at least in this initial motion, the exact same with respect to each of the parties.

THE COURT: Well, let's do this. Again, I'll think out loud and I'll listen to anybody who is opposed, but if somebody could get me an order today, that's fine, but if not, Monday, and I would issue an order that identifies them. gentlemen have to help me identify them but indicate that based upon the matters discussed at this hearing, the following is a schedule for the disposition or at least preliminary disposition of this issue, and then name them, one, two, three, four, five, six. If they wish to join, they must do so by, and then I'll say seven days, and I will -- I don't have to put this in an order, but I'll say that if PG&E needs to supplement its motion in some way after the 26th, because of something raised by a late arrival, I'll certainly be open to that, and then I would add also that I don't want five different briefs. I want the respondents to meet and confer, and try to be economical about their response. I'm not going to say that Elliot and PIMCO or Mr. Goldblatt's clients, I can't remember the names, that they have to file all one brief, but they have to at least put their heads together, so they don't give me five briefs that say the same thing.

1 And Ms. Parada, can you give me a date on --

2 MR. GALARDI: Your Honor, may I do one thing before we go onto the dates for the hearing, just to make one

4 qualification?

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. GALARDI: Mr. Slack --

THE COURT: And Mr. Galardi, Mr. Galardi, just state your name again when you --

MR. GALARDI: Surely. It's Gregg Galardi of Ropes & Gray on behalf of Elliot.

One thing that I wanted Your Honor to be aware of, and I think this is not a today issue, but it is something that I think Mr. Slack mentioned, we have served discovery, but we have agreed to stay our discovery pending, not the outcome of this proceeding, but pending the response that we receive from the debtors. We believe, like a claims objection, we could proceed once they have responded.

We have agreed to meet and confer with Mr. Slack, obviously, regarding the scope of that discovery at that time, but I didn't want it to be thought that by agreeing to this schedule, we would not be wanting to proceed forward with discovery, depending upon the issues raised, since we haven't seen it, or as you said, it may be a summary judgment, it may be a motion to dismiss, we will meet and confer. Hopefully, we don't have to come back to the Court, but I didn't want there PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company to be a suggestion that this was a process that there would be no discovery until Your Honor rules.

THE COURT: Well, I think we can solve that problem by this order that we'll be issuing immediately, and promptly, will say that there's a stay of discovery pending disposition of this first round of the motions, whatever we call it. As I say, we bankruptcy lawyers have our own little terminology, but it's a traditional motion to dismiss summary judgment type matter.

MR. GALARDI: But Your Honor, I think that's actually procedurally not actually the way it will work, and if Your Honor is going to order that, there is in a claims process, 7012 does not apply, there may be a summary judgment. We would have the right with respect to summary judgment and with respect to 60(d) if that is where they go to take discovery upon their filing of an objection. I believe they would have the burden to come back and say why that discovery is not permitted. Merely filing a motion to dismiss doesn't stay discovery.

Now I'm not saying we can't work that out, but I'm not -- I do believe that at the point of their filing a response, like to a complaint, that doesn't automatically stay discovery.

24 THE COURT: Well, I didn't go back and look at the rules today because I didn't know what we were going to talk

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company about today. So what do we call this motion?

MR. GALARDI: We've actually been wrestling with that, with the -- with PG&E, Your Honor, and that's why I wanted to raise because --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. GALARDI: -- I'm not sure what they're going to call it, and that was actually the point that we agreed to stand down on our discovery till we see what it is they file, and under what rules they file.

THE COURT: Okay, fair enough, but even if it -- we don't have a name for it functionally, it's like a motion to dismiss. The administrative claim that Elliot has filed, the debtor says I can beat it on the papers. That's a motion to dismiss, or a motion for a judgment on the pleadings, or something in a more traditional term.

I'm not -- I don't want to get bogged down on whether Rule 12 or Rule 56 apply or not apply, we have the procedures in place, and I agree, I think it's very constructive that you and the debtors have agreed to not do discovery now, and that's fine. All I want to do is implement the same procedure.

MR. SLACK: Your Honor, and you're -- Richard Slack for the reorganized debtor -- you're exactly right, and I just -- to be clear, because we did have a discussion about the discovery, and what we agreed to was there clearly would not be discovery on the -- what I will call the underlying merits

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company issues at this time, and the reservation that Mr. Galardi made to me before this hearing, and I think as he's voicing today, is that if there -- if he believes after looking at our motion, which we believe is going to be directed to the face of their pleading and the legal issues, but if he believes that there's discovery that's appropriate, tailored directly to our motion, as opposed to the underlying merits, we're going to have a conversation about that, and we've agreed to do that, and we might be back to the Court if there's a disagreement about it. That's right, and consistent with my THE COURT: practice generally, if Mr. Galardi calls you up and says I think I get to take the deposition of somebody, and you say I don't agree, we'll have a quick discovery about it, but I would think that if we're drawing the equivalent to the motion to dismiss, or more precisely, motion for judgment on the pleadings, it seems like there probably aren't going to be material facts in dispute, but we'll deal with that later. agree with you. MR. SLACK: Thank you, Your Honor. THE COURT: So again, let me go back to what I would -- Mr. Galardi asked that question --Your Honor, this is Mr. Anker --MR. ANKER: Wait one second. THE COURT: MR. ANKER: -- if I might be heard.

Go ahead, Mr. Anker, with your question -- your 9 comment.

MR. ANKER: Your Honor, everything you've said sounds fine, and consistent. I simply was going to underscore, we have agreed to this procedure, and I'm sure Your Honor is happy the parties have agreed, as an accommodation of the debtors. When I hear the debtors say they will largely raise legal issues, that causes my ears to perk up as to whether they are going to raise fact issues, and if they do, we either will be back before you seeking discovery, or saying this isn't an argument purely that goes to the legal issues, like the effect of a plan, and therefore, their preliminary motion, whether one calls it a motion to dismiss, or motion for judgment on the pleadings, needs to be denied, and we need to move to the next phase.

I will deal with that when it comes up, but I do hope that this will be a motion directed to the law, not to the facts, and certainly not the facts that I suspect are hotly

1 disputed between the parties, and that it comes to no surprise, 2 we don't think that this can be decided on the law, but we're 3 happy to let the debtor take a shot at it, and proceed 4 thereafter. 5 Thank you, Your Honor. 6 MR. KAROTKIN: Your Honor --7 THE COURT: Mr. Anker -- wait one second. Mr. Anker, 8 you're not familiar with my procedures, and I obviously 9 discourage summary judgment type motion with -- when a lawyer 10 says I want to make a motion for summary judgment, but I'm 11 going to take some discovery first, I usually say well, then 12 don't make your motion for summary judgment. 13 So I'll tell Mr. Slack the obvious, don't make your 14 motion to throw this thing out if it depends upon a material 15 fact in dispute. 16 MR. ANKER: Thank you, Your Honor. 17 MR. KAROTKIN: Your Honor? 18 THE COURT: Mr. Karotkin? 19 MR. KAROTKIN: Your Honor -- yeah, Mr. Karotkin for 20 the reorganized debtors. 21 Just so it's clear, our response will be based on the 22 law and the undisputed facts. And I want to thank Mr. Anker 23 for accommodating us. Frankly, he wasn't involved in the 24 discussions until yesterday. We worked with Mr. Galardi to work out this schedule, and I think it's an accommodation to 25

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company all of the parties, and to the Court.

THE COURT: Okay. But I want to go to my point. I still think in view of this discussion, I'm not comfortable slamming something down the throat of people who aren't even on this call. So at least, there's got to be seven days' notice, and Mr. Slack, I'm going to give you the lead assignment here, and maybe rushing an order today is not the right thing to do. You've got several experienced counsel, and I want them to be participating with you in getting that order done, and we can get it done.

As I say, I'll repeat, if for some reason some late arriver to the party raises something that squeezes PG&E on its August 26th commitment, I'll give it more time to do that, and we'll work around that.

Now is the 13th of October convenient for all of you, or at least the persons who will be presumably arguing the case? Anybody have a problem with that? We haven't picked a time, but presumably it will be in the morning like this, and I'll make sure my Zoom machine is working correctly. That date good? Any objection?

21 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: No objection, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Why don't I say if any -- do any of you have an objection to that date?

MR. GALARDI: Your Honor, again it's your omnibus, and your calendar. If there were a date before that, we'd PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company certainly appreciate it, but the 13th is clear for me.

THE COURT: Well, I already made my speech about I don't want five briefs, but based upon the amount of paperwork, I can't imagine that it's going to be something I can do overnight. I tend to read what people give me.

MR. GALARDI: Understood. I've watched you many times read, and show your mastery of the pleadings. So I'm not trying to do otherwise.

THE COURT: But I'm not locked into October 13th. I was joking. I'm not very busy, that's why I invited Mr.

Karotkin to bring his gang back for another mega case for me today. It's very lonely.

MR. GALARDI: Well, we'd love him to bring it back in the early or first week or so of October if Your Honor was somewhere in the -- by the 6th if possible. Again, I don't want Your Honor to have to read more than you have to read. We will cooperate. It is really a reply on the 25th of September. So if there was a day, and we didn't have to put it on an omnibus date, I would ask if you could do that.

THE COURT: You know what? I'll tell you what I'm going to do. For now, I'm going to tentatively call it -- stick with the 13th. Later in the day, I may talk to my courtroom deputy, Ms. Parada, and we do have a couple of other things coming up. I've got a mediation, and a couple day trial coming up, and I just want to make sure this will fit. So for PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company these purposes, let's call it the 13th.

Mr. Slack, can you then take the lead and do the order that will not only lay out what we've all discussed, but make it clear for any latecomers that they have to be involved and follow this procedure, as well.

MR. SLACK: We'll do that, Your Honor. And just to be clear, we're going to submit the order, obviously, as soon as we can, and you want the date for the joinders to be a week from today, correct?

THE COURT: No, I think what I would like to be is a week from the day of the order. So if you get it all done today, and I sign an order, it goes on the electronic docket today, I'll stick with my week. If it doesn't happen till the weekend, or more likely Monday or Tuesday, the same. Again, I just don't want to ram something down the throat of someone who is a stranger to this procedure, and has a right to be involved.

It sounds to me like that's not going to happen, but I -- listen, I'd rather have -- do it that way, than have to start all over again with somebody else at a later hearing.

Okay. Anybody want to raise anything else? All right. Well, thank you for working these details out. Let me just take a quick check to -- just a moment, just look at one thing on my screen here. Hold on.

Okay. Ms. Parada, is there anything else we need to PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company deal with with these folks? 1 2 THE CLERK: No, Your Honor, just what time would the 3 hearing be on the 13th? We normally set this at 10 a.m. Would 4 you like to start earlier? 5 THE COURT: Yeah. Yeah, no, 10 a.m. Well again, 6 unless some of the east coast lawyers want to do it a different 7 time. Well, that's 1 o'clock for them. All right. 10 o'clock 8 our time, October 13th. Thank you for your time. I look 9 forward to seeing the papers. 10 Thank you, Your Honor. IN UNISON: 11 THE COURT: And I want to leave with one more thing, 12 One more thing, I do want to make sure that, again, mostly the 13 Ropes & Gray lawyers, or other lawyers who haven't been active 14 with me face-to-face, I'm not insisting that everything go into 15 one brief. I'm just insisting that you experienced counsel put 16 your heads together so I don't have to reinvent the wheel 17 multiple times. Okay. 18 IN UNISON: Understood, Your Honor. 19 THE COURT: Thanks for your time. Thank you. 20 IN UNISON: Thank you. 21 THE COURT: Thank you.
